

Black Diamond Productions Presents
Allegies: An Innovative Approach
Dr. Carl DeStefano, DC, DACNB

Saturday, September 12, 2015
9AM-4PM

Top Dog Obedience School
24 Bartley Road, Flanders, NJ 07836

This presentation will describe the pathophysiology of allergies from an entirely novel perspective. Everything you think you might know about allergies will be turned on its head. Innovative diagnostic and treatment strategies will be discussed. This program is designed for dog owners dedicated to learning how to best improve the health of their canine partners.

Dr. Carl DeStefano, DC, DACNB is a charismatic and polished educator determined to always help students understand what can be very complicated material. Since 1998, he has taught Animal Chiropractic and Functional Neurology at Options for Animals (IL), Colorado State University Veterinary College, The Healing Oasis Wellness Center (WI), Tufts University Veterinary College (MA) as well as post-professional programs in Europe. He also teaches Applied Kinesiology in his own program at Health Pioneers (www.healthpioneers.net) in Winfield, IL.

All proceeds from this seminar will benefit Dog T.A.G.S., a Service Dog Owner Training Program for Veterans suffering from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and brain injuries associated with military service.

Since 1994, Black Diamond Productions has been the joint effort of Michael Berecka and Sue Ann Lesser, DVM with the mission to provide educational information concerning canine physiology, body work and neurology to non-professionals in the form of workbooks and seminars.
